ARCHBISHOP CHAPPELLE DEAD

VENERABLE PRELATE SUCCUMBS TO FEVER

Yesterday's Record of New Cases Large and Increase in Number of Deaths—Street Cleaning Campaign Started.

New Orleans, Aug. 9.—Report of board of health to 6 p. m.:
New cases, 63.
Total cases, 697.
Deaths, 7.
Total deaths, 119.
Cases under treatment, 265.

Public interest in the yellow fever situation suffered a temporary eclipse to day in the unexpected announcement of the death of Archbishop Chapelle. Although the venerable prelate was the subject of scientific treatment and had the most assiduous attention, his physique always counted heavily against him in the opinion of both laity and physicians, while his fatigued condition on his return from a particularly irksome trip through the country also was against him. His death therefore, while generally deplored, is not considered to negative the opinion of the medical fraternity that with good care and proper treatment the mortality is unlikely to be heavy during the present visitation.

What has been considered remarkable is that the archbishop should have contracted the disease here so quickly after arrival, though he had spent many later years of his life in Cuba and Porto Rico, in both of which countries the disease is endemic, without ever having contracted it. Among scientific men there is little doubt that the archbishop fell a victim to a mosquito bite.

To day's record of cases was again large and there was an increase in the number of deaths. New cases are swelling largely as a result of the vim and energy which federal control of the situation, has inspired and from a gradual overcoming of disinclination of some doctors to make known their cases. Actual control of the sanitary work passed to day to the marine hospital service, Dr. Gressner being placed in immediate charge.

CLEANING CAMPAIGN.

The great street cleaning campaign was inaugurated early to day, to continue until nightfall. Besides paid laborers of the city and prisoners from jails, thousands of volunteers took off coats and went to work to give New Orleans a thorough scrubbing. Hundreds of carts and wagons carried off the refuse.

The state board of health is in receipt of advice from a number of parishes notifying t of their disposition to modify quarantine regulations. Foreign immigration into New Orleans is to be stopped until the fever is stamped out.

FEVER ON ISTHMUS.

THE DEAD PRELATE

History of Archbishop Chapelle, Who Died of Yellow Fever.

New Orleans, Aug. 9.—Archbishop Chapelle, who died of yelolw fever to day, was born in Mende, France, Aug. 28, 1842. He came to the United States in 1859; was ordained priest in 1865; missionary five years and afterward held pastorates in Baltimore and Washington. In 1891 the archbishop was made bishop coadjutor of Santa Fe and became archbishop of that diocese in 1894. Three years later he was named archbishop of New Orleans. After the Spanish-American war he was appointed apostolic delegate to Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines. He went to the Philippines and spent much time there in connection with the settlemet of conditios growing out of the change of sovereignty in the islands. He took up the cause of the friars and his work was approved by the vatican. During his stay in Manila he was thrown constantly into contact with Secretary Taft, then governor of the islands, and they became warm personal friends. Three years ago Chapelle was relieved of his mission to the Philippines, but continued his jurisdiction over Cuba and Porto Rico.

The body of the archbishop was transferred at nine o'clock from his residence to St. Louis cathedral, where it is lying in state. The obsequies will take place to morrow morning.

Banana cars must not be switched or side tracked with the ventilators open. Detroit, Aug. 9.—Harry Johnson, held with Harry Parker by the police on suspicion of murdering Pawnbroker Joseph Moyer, July 28, this afternoon sent word to Captain McDonnell, of the detective department, that he wanted to make a confession. After an assistant prosecuting attorney and stenographer had been secured the party went to Johnson's cell to take his confession. "I know all about the murder, and will make a detailed statement if you will promise me immunity," he said, according to the officers. Assistant Prosecutor Wurser replied it was impossible under the law to make such a promise and as Johnson did not then evidence a desire to continue his statement the officers left him. BOYCOTT OF AMERICANS

WU TING FANG TALKS ON THE SUBJECT

Existing Regulations in Chinese Exclusion Act Unsatisfactory to His People—Boycott the Only Remedy.

Pekin, Aug. 9.—Wu Ting Fang, formerly Chinese minister at Washington, now vice president of the board of foreign affairs, interviewed by the Associated Press, said the existing regulations for the exclusion of Chinese from the United States were unsatisfactory from a Chinese standpoint and hence it was desired they should be modified by a new convention. The Chinese, he said, agreed to the exclusion of coolies and this point presented no difficulty, but the existing regulations pressed with severity on other classes. He instanced cases of merchants, travelers for pleasure, students and others, who, while nominally admissible to the United States, were forced to undergo examinations which, though possibly necessary, were generally rendered very objectionable on account of the manner in which the regulations were enforced.

Wu expressed himself as greatly regretting the Chinese boycott of American goods and steamship and insurance companies, as it might estrange the good will of the highly prized. Apparently, however, he said, Chinese classes most concerned, considering that prospects for solution of the difficulties arising from application of the exclusion act were remote, decided on the boycott as the only means of ventilating the question. He pointed out the movement against Americans, though thoroughly organized by the best and most representative Chinese, was altogether pacific and was not directed against persons or property.

OFFERS HIS SERVICES

Governor of Minnesota Willing to Act as Mediator in Strike of Telegraphers.

St. Paul, Aug. 9.—Governor Johnson has written a letter to President Hill of the Great Northern, President Elliott of the Northern Pacific and President H. B. Perham of the railway telegraphers, offering the services of the executive department as mediator in bringing about an amicable settlement of the strike. There were no other developments in the situation to day. Both sides are still claiming conditions are improving from their standpoint with each passing day.

Washington, Aug. 9.—The attorney general received a number of telegrams from United States attorneys giving information that the telegraphers' strike situation on the Great Northern and Northern Pacific lines shows improvement in condition. Therefore it is said to be quite improbable the department of justice will take any action in the matter unless the situation becomes worse.

New York, Aug. 9.—James J. Hill set at rest to day the reports said to have been spread among the striking telegraphers of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific roads that he would intervene in their behalf in he contention with the operating officers of the road. Hill said the men had been dismissed because they would not obey orders, and that he would "see to it that any of those who have been active in bringing about this strike will never again enter the employ of the roads."

FIRST PEACE MEETING HELD

EXCHANGE CREDENTIALS AND ARRANGE PROGRAM

Agree to Use French and English Languages Jointly During Conference—Will Meet Again to Day—Talk of Outcome.

Portsmouth, Aug. 9.—The first session of the peace conference has been concluded. I lasted about an hour. No business was done besides exchanging credentials and arranging the program for future sessions.

The credentials were found entirely satisfactory. The next meeting will be to morrow at 9:30. After the conference the envoys spent some time in their respectives offices. They returned to New Castle by a launch. The Japanese were first to leave the naval yard landing. The Russians followed shortly afterward, the trip to the hotel landing being made by Russians and Japanese in separate boats.

The envoys agreed that English and French languages be used jointly and that official minutes of meetings be recorded in both languages.

THE OUTCOME.

With the probability that Baron Komura will to morrow reveal to the Russian plenipotentiaries the terms on which Japan is willing to conclude peace, opinion as to outcome among those who are congregated to watch the proceeding has become decidedly pessimistic. This is due to the growing conviction that Japan's conditions will not prove as moderate as were at one time anticipated and, especially in the matter of indemnity, may preclude the possibility of their acceptance by the Russian envoys as the basis of negotiations. Witte's firm attitude in private conversation againt the payment of indemnity and insistent reports emanating from Japanese quarters that a war contribution approximating the cost of the war, variously stated at from six hundred to eight hundred millions, constitutes one of Japan's demands, indicates a wide, if not an irreconcilable difference between Japan's irreducible minimum and what Russia is prepared to accept. Upon the question of payment of large indemnity instructions of Russian plenipotentiaries are believed to admit of no concessions, although it is possible certain compensation in kind might be arranged. For instance, it is suggested that for relinquishment of the island of Sakhalin, now potentially in Japan's hands, the possession of which by Japan would give her command of the whole Siberian litteral, Russia ould with propriety pay a large sum. Gloomy forebodings, however, may be premature at this juncture, as everything indicates plenipotentiaries upon both sides are sincerely desirious of concluding a treaty of peace.

Official versions of to day's meeting given out by each side are described it as "unsatisfactory," and other accounts indicate that while everything passed off amicably, considerable reserve was displayed upon both sides.

While the Russian plenipotentiaries expect the Japanese to present terms immediately upon official exchange of credentials to morrow they admit they are in the dark. Komura and his colleagues decline to give any intimation of their course of proceedure.

Commanders Winslow and Gibbons also made their official calls upon the two missions this afternoon.

Santa Fe, N. M., Aug. 9.—The third attempt in recent months to kidnap Miguel A. Otero, son of Governor Otero, has been defeated by the temporary absence of the boy from the summer home of Mrs. W. B. The boy was on a fishing trip at the time.

Chicago, Aug. 9.—Dr. D. P. Fredericks, of Oil City, Pa., won the gold medal score to day in the thirty-six-hole qualifying round of the national golf championship with a total of 155. He had a clear margin of five strokes over Champion George S. Lyon, of Canada. Tied at 163 were National Champion H. C. Egan and W. C. Fownes, Jr., of Oakmount club, Pittsburg. Only one stroke separated the young experts of the Wheaton Golf club, D. E. Sawyer and Hugh Campbell, who made respectively 163 and 164. Fred Herreshoff, of Ekwanok, runner-up in the national tournament of last year, had 163. Walter J. Travis, of Garden City, was 166, four strokes better than his old rival, J. D. Travers, of Nassau.

Considerable surprise was expressed over some of the names shown in the list of those who failed to qualify. Walker E. Egan, former runner-up in the national tournament and western champion, failed to get in with a total of 176. Former National Champion L. N. James, of Lakeview, was squeezed out with a total of 175.

FEVER WIPING OUT CATTLE.

Guthrie, O. T., Aug. 9.—Dr. Leslie J. Allen, a federal inspector, stated that over 5,000 head of cattle had died in the Cherokee nation, Texas, of fever within the last two weeks. He had made a trip on horseback in the territories about Vinita, Claremore and Noweta and reports that one hundred deaths in single herds are common and that the disease seems to be firmly established over the whole nation.

The quarantine law has not been enforced in this district and the country is badly infected from southern cattle. Nothing can be done to stop the disease now, and Dr. Allen thinks whole herds will be wiped out. Three train loads of cattle were shipped to market over the Rock Island from the territory west of El Reno on Monday.

THE TEAMSTERS

President Shea Defends Management of Chicago Strike.

Philadelphia, Aug. 9.—A greater portion of the day was devoted by the International Brotherhood of Teamsters listening to President Shea's defense of his management of the Chicago strike. Shea came in for criticism when reports of executive members were read.

Michael Casey, of San Francisco, third vice president, characterized the Chicago strike as a dismal failure, that had brought the teamsters into disrepute. "The organization has suffered in prestige and it will take years to wipe out the disgrace resulting from it. It will be a mistake for this convention to whitewash the officers responsible for this."

The convention transacted little business. Financial reports shows a small balance in receipts over expenditures. Last year eighty-six new locals were organized and eighteen discontinued. There was a falling off in the membership of 9,683, due, it is declared, to lack of discipline.

GOOD SHEPHERDS.

When she left Lincoln she said she was going to Sioux City.

Escapes With Bad Cut on Leg—Soon Recovered and Drove in Another Race—Races at Davenport.

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 9.—Ed Geers, the dean of the Grand circuit drivers, had another close call this afternoon. The veteran was in the sulky back of King Direct in the 2:04 pace, the feature of the day, when in the third heat, at the head of the stretch, King Direct, pacing strongly, stuck his foot through the wheel of Locanda's sulky. There was a tangle of horses, sulkies and drivers, almost immediately swallowed up in a cloud of dust. When the scene cleared Geers was seen prostrate on the ground. Some stable hands and others, including a physician, were at Geers' side. It was found he had suffered a bad cut on the leg and was stunned, but he speedily recovered his breath, and his first words were: "Now, don't make a hurrah of this thing and scare everybody to death for nothing."

To show he was alright, Geers then came out back of Turley in the 2:11 trot, which followed, and won the deciding heat, being given a tremendous ovation.

Locanda had two heats in the 2:04 pace when the accident occurred, and, as the judges found both drivers blameless and placed the horses in the final heat, the Allerton stallion got the race.

Civil Service Commissioners Organize—Expenses of Board to Be Met Out of Emergency Appropriation—Pioneer Educator Dead—Struck Oil.

CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION.

Springfield—The newly appointed Illinois civil service commission, consisting of W. B. Moulton of Chicago, James A. Willoughby of Danville, and J. Stanley Browne of Rockford met Tuesday with Governor Deneen and effected an organization by electing Moulton president and Willoughby treasurer. Offices for the commission will be established in the state house. The general assembly that created the commission made no provision for the funds necessary for its operation and Governor Deneen announced Tuesday that he will meet the office expenses out of the emergency appropriation. This expense wil include the employment of a chief examiner at a salary of $2,500 a year and of a secretary. It is likely that these two offices will be combined.

President Moulton gave out a statement Tuesday night as follows:

Upon its organization the commission decided to at once get in touch with the institutions under its jurisdiction and in co-operation with the superintendents to bring the employes of these institutions to a high plane for efficiency. This will be done by requirements of the most practical character of applicants for places of employment. These applicants must show by examinations relating to the duties of the positions sought that they possess the requisite ability to do the work required of them and by further evidence of character that they possess the moral qualifications that should fit them for this most important work of the state in the care of its helpless people in the great charitable institutions.

The law in its application to these institutions does not go into effect until November 1. After that time in case of vacancies the superintendents must apply to the commission and take their employes from the eligible list of the commission, selecting one of the three highest certified. Those who are holding offices or places of employment on November 1 are not affected by the law and will not be required to take examinations. The commission in effect will proceed to provide eligible lists for vacancies after November 1.

In order to secure the results of the advancement made in civil service lines, the latest work of the state commissions of New York and Massachusetts, of the federal commision at Washington and of the city and county commissions of Chicago will be thoroughly gone over and the Illinois commission will be guided by their experience in arriving at the very best results.

The commission will shortly visit the institutions in order to see for themselves what is best to be done in every way to advance their efficiency. At all times in active co-operation with the superintendents, they will endeavor to bring every assistance within their power to make the state charitable institutions of Illinois rank among the best.

The civil service law covers about 2,000 employes in the following institutions: Northern Insane hospital, Elgin; Eastern Insane Hospital, Kankakee; Central Insane hospital, Jacksonville; Southern Insane hospital, Anna; Western Insane hospital, Watertown; Asylum for Incurable Insane, South Bartonville; Asylum for Incurable Criminals, Chester; School for the Deaf, Jacksonville; Institution for the Blind, Jacksonville; Industrial Home for the Blind, Chicago; Asylum for the Feeble Minded, Lincoln; Soldiers' and Sailors' home, Quincy; Soldiers' Orphans' home, Normal; Soldiers' Widows' home, Wilmington; Eye and Ear infirmary, Chicago; Training School for Girls, Geneva; St. Charles' Boys' home, St. Charles.

PIONEER EDUCATOR DEAD.

Pekin—Leonard Allen, aged 87, one of the pioneer educators and religious workers of Illinois, died Tuesday. Mr. Allen was a school teacher in Decatur, Ill., in 1841 and among his students was Richard Oglesby, afterwards elected governor of Illinois. Through his friendship with Governor Oglesby Mr. Allen was appointed a member of the first board of trustees of the University of Illinois at Champaign, which position he held four years. Mr. Allen organized the first school in Pekin in 1846, and was county superintendent of schools of Tazewell county for ten years, 1850 to 1860. He was an active religious worker, aiding in the organization of the first Baptist church in Pekin, of which he had been a deacon for more than half a century. In politics he was a stalwart Republican, having voted for William Henry Harrison, also for his illustrious grandson, Benjamin Harrison.

STRUCK OIL.

Greenville—Oil was struck at Mulberry Grove, ten miles east of this city, Tuesday morning, while a force of men was boring a well for the new milk plant of L. A. Spies of St. Jacob. The oil was struck at a depth of only 80 feet, and the find is supplemented by the fact that surface indications point to oil in large quantities in this county. A company has already been formed to bore for oil at Pleasant Mound, between this city and Mulberry Grove.

SELF DEFENSE HIS PLEA.

Pittsfield—Lappin, who some days ago severely cut and nearly killed John and Frank Davis, will be given a hearing next Saturday and will attempt to show his act to have been done in self defense. John Davis is recovering, but his son, Frank, is in such condition that his death is expected.

HORRIBLE DEATH.

Eureka—Near Benson Tuesday morning Charles Tool fell into a cylinder of a separator and was horribly mangled. Both legs were cut off and he died before he could be taken from the machine. He was about 45 years of age and leaves a wife and child.

ANNOUNCED HER MARRIAGE.

Girard—Miss Ada Hederick at a party given Tuesday night to the Cinch club announced her marriage to Albert Conlee of Waverly, which took place June 7 at Petersburg. The announcement came as a complete surprise to their many friends, only the parents of the bride knowing of it. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Hederick, and is a very popular young lady of this city. The happy couple will reside on a farm six miles south of Waverly.

FOUND UNCONSCIOUS.

Carmi—A stranger named Brooks, bearing credentials as a preacher, whose home is thought to be in Rich Hill, Ind., was found in an unconscious condition in a small grove near this place Tuesday. He had taken a big dose of morphine, seemingly with suicidal intent. The supervisor was called to take charge of him, as he had no funds. He refuses to talk.

BITES OFF MAN'S EAR.

Carmi—Richard Clifford, of Concord, eight miles south of here, was badly injured Tuesday by a vicious horse, which bit off one ear and hurt him internally by dragging him some distance.

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

How the Various Animals Behave When Menaced by Fire.

Most animals are afraid of fire and will fly from it in terror. To others there is a fascination about a flame, and they will walk into it, even though tortured by the heat. Some firemen were talking the other day about the conduct of animals during a fire. A horse in a burning stable, they agreed, was wild with fear, but a dog was as cool in a fire as at any other time. A dog, they said, keeps his nose down to the floor, where the air is purest, and sets himself calmly to finding his way out. Cats in fires howl piteously. They hide their faces from the light and crouch in corners. When their rescuer lifts them they are, as a rule, quite docile and subdued, never biting or scratching. Birds seem to be hypnotized by fire and keep perfectly still. Even the loquacious parrot in a fire has nothing to say. Cows, like dogs, do not show alarm. They are easy to lead forth and often find their way out themselves. Rodents seem never to have any difficulty in escaping from fires. The men said that in their experience they had never come upon the burned skeleton of a rat or mouse.—Golden Days.

CONFIRMED THE JUDGE.

Judge Kennedy of the Newton police court, although a model of courtesy on the bench, never fails to nail a lie, especially if the falsifier is on trial for a crime.

An old offender was arraigned before him, charged with drunkenness. When the complaint had been read the defendant bravely answered, "Not guilty." The judge, eying him sharply, inquired, "How long since you were drunk?" The prisoner answered that he hadn't taken a drink for more than a year.

"That's not true," replied his honor. "I saw you drunk within a month on the street in Boston, and you had the impudence to accost me."

"Did I spake to you, sor?" asked the prisoner.

"You did," said the court.

"Well, thin, I must have been drunk, yer anner."

No one in the courtroom enjoyed the incident more than the judge.—Boston Herald.

TOBACCO SECRETS

What Makes the Chico One of the Mildest and Most Enjoyable Cigars on the Market.

How many people, even among the most confirmed smokers, know what constitutes the difference between a strong and a mild cigar? It is simple enough. The strong product is so made that it burns badly, while a mild cigar is one that burns well—like the Wadsworth Bros." Chicos.

"These cigars," say Armstrong & Armstrong, the local druggists, "are made from a long Havana filler, carefully selected, with the best hand workmanship, and as they burn freely with a firm, perfect ash the result is a mild, pleasant and enjoyable smoke."

Six months ago the Chico was not known in Jacksonville, but to day it is the most popular cigar in the city, and is the favorite, although it sells for but 5 cents. Smokers who have heretofore wanted only ten or fifteen cent goods should step into Armstrong & Armstrong's and get a few Chicos. We know you will say, as do other fastidious smokers, that it is the mildest and most enjoyable cigar in the market.

Another Interurban for Jacksonville—Excursionists Left Behind—Items of Interest—Personal Mention.

INTERURBAN LINE.

The Sangamon Valley Electric company, which is incorporated to build a line from this city to Petersburg, Jacksonville, Winchester, Pittsfield, Hardin and Quincy, is engaged in considering plans for putting the line through as soon as possible. J. Melke, secretary and treasury of the company, has been in Pike county, through which the line is planned to run, looking over the ground and explaining the proposition to the farmers.

A meeting has been called at Milton for to night at which the plans of the company will be publicly explained. In substance they are that the company proposes to pay all land owners, across whose premises their lines run at the rate of $150 per acre for the land actually taken, to be paid for in first mortgage bonds on the stock and roadbed and equipment, and the owners to be given a certificate of stock in the company equal to the adjudicated damage he sustains.

The idea is to make all land owners who are affected by the road stockholders in it by accepting from them such amounts in cash as they may choose to invest, giving therefor a first mortgage bond and a certificate of stock for a like amount. The bonds will be issued from fifteen to twenty years with 5 per cent per annum interest.

EXCURSIONISTS GOT LEFT.

Kansas City Star: At 6 o'clock Sunday evening nearly 2,000 persons were packed around the exit doors in the Union depot, trying to get to trains on the platforms. Most of them were excursionists and they were jammed so close together that it was nearly impossible to pass through. Regular trains were called but the excursionists blocked the exits and some travelers were forced to look through the windows and see their trains pulling from the depot. Three girls from Jacksonville, Ill., had this experience. After struggling ten minutes they got to the platform two minutes after the train had pulled out.

Eight hundred excursionists who came in from Illinois on the Alton Saturday stood in the depot at 6 o'clock waiting to board their train home. The Wabash excursionists from the east were also there and the hundreds of regular travelers helped to swell the number.

THE POWER OF STEAM.

Many May See But It Takes Genius to Realize.

When James Watt saw the steam causing the kettle lid to jump up and down he said "There must be power in that steam that it can lift such a weight."

There was.

Millions prior to him had seen the same phenomenon and regarded it as an unexplained mystery.

Recent scientific research has put its finger on the "cause" of Dandruff, Falling Hair, and consequent Baldness, and has unearthed a tiny germ which eats the life from the roots of human hair.

Newbro's Herpicide destroys this germ and consequently restores the hair to its natural state.

The board of education met Wednesday evening with all members present, President Davis presiding. The session was not a long one, but several matters of business other than routine received attention. Mr. Stewart, clerk of the board, presented a resolution authorizing the finance committee to borrow money to pay anticipation warrants, and it was adopted. Bids had been asked for from the various banks and were received from two, the Jacksonville National bank offering money at 5.47 per cent and the Hockenhull-Elliott Bank & Trust Co., at 4¾ per cent. What Have You Done?

You are going to do great things, you say—
But what have you done?
You are going to win in a splendind way,
As others have won.
You have plans, that when they are put in force
Will make you sublime.
You have mapped out a glorious upward course—
But why don't you climb?

You're not quite ready to buy, you say,
If you hope to win
The time to be starting is now—to day.
Don't daily begin.
No man has ever been ready as yet,
Nor ever will be.
You may fail ere you reach where your hopes are set.
But try and see.

You are going to buy a piano, you say,
On the installment plan.
Your dreams are all right, but too far away—

Will not think of what you are going to do,
But of what you have done.

PLEASANT SURPRISE.

Tuesday evening Miss Olive Smith was very pleasantly surprised at her home on North Church street by about twelve of her little friends and playmates. While she was away from home her friends took the liberty to walk in and take possession of her room and it is needless to say that she was very much surprised when she came back and found them there. The evening was very pleasantly spent with amusements of various sorts and all present had an enjoyable time. Delicious refreshments were served. Those present were: Iola Waters, Catherine McDonald, Lucille Reinbach, Clara Lane, Ruth Bavington, Byron Waters, Verne Tremblett, Johnnie Lane, Rollin Keihl and Dorothy Montgomery, of Astoria.

GASOLINE EXPLOSION.

Herman Suetkamp, of the Herman Tailoring Co., was painfully burned Wednesday morning by an explosion of gasoline. He was "scouring" a skirt at a table about four feet from the door, and the fumes from the gasoline he was using evidently filled the room, as when a passerby struck a match outside the door, the fire was communicated to the pan containing gasoline and water, in which Mr. Suetkamp had his hands. The fire was communicated to the contents of the room, but the blaze was extinguished with little damage. Mr. Suetkamp was badly burned on both hands and up to the shoulders on both arms. Dr. Allen King dressed the injuries.

A resident of South Diamond street has left at this office a brick that came out of the wall of the old brick house which was recently torn down just south of Charles Fitch's grocery store. Mr. Edgmon ran a brick yard sixty or sixty-five years ago, where Charles Fitch's store now stands.

SHOT RATTLE SNAKE.

Tom W. Ensley has received a letter from Robert Montgomery, who is now in the real estate business in Burke, S. Dak. He states that while in the act of retiring several nights ago he experienced a feeling that some one was in the room. He did not think anything of it until several hours afterward, when he arose and pushed the bed clothes down and was horrified to see a large rattle snake coiled up in the bed ready to strike. He reached for his revolver and shot the snake through the head.

THE JOURNAL COMPANY.

Barney Oldfield continues to run the pace that kills, and some day the pace will get in its work.

According to an astute head writer, the "battle of the peace conference is now on."

The arbiter between a "bumper" corn crop and a "good" one is now said to be Jupiter Pluvius.

New Orleans has got down to business at last. If the city had only increased their "white wings" brigade a little sooner the population would have escaped the dreadful yellow jack.

It is up to the people to sidestep the theatrical trust, and no one knows this fact better than the octopian magnates. Those who expect to corner the fun and mirth of the country will find it heavy sledding hereafter.

ELIHU ROOT.

The country will continue to have confidence in Elihu Root, the Commoner to the contrary notwithstanding. It is argued that his "brains have been for sale to any corporation that could pay the price." Yes, his brains were sold to the municipal corporation of the city of Philadelphia for the purpose of cleaning out the grafters and franchise grabbers that infested the Pennsylvania metropolis. The country is eager to hire the kind of brains possessed by such men as Root, in either private or public capacity.

The fact that stands out most boldly, however, is the surrender of filthy lucre for love of country, and when high position in public life is placed in the balance over against mere dollars and cents there is no wavering, but the patriot Root steps into the breach that he has been asked to fill and the opinion prevails pretty generally that the breach is well filled.

NEED OF A MODERATOR.

The peace conference seems to need a moderator. The question now uppermost is a decision as to the language in which the negotiations shall be conducted. The Japanese envoys speak fluent English, but no French. Baron Rosen speaks English and French, while M. de Witte speaks excellent French, but no English. If the language spoken by a majority of the peace conferees is to govern, English will be the language. In such an event an interpreter will be needed for M. de Witte. There are a number of minor questions that will have to be disposed of before the negotiations proper can begin, and the necessity for a presiding officer becomes almost imperative under the turn events have taken. President Roosevelt would make an ideal presiding officer and while we do not know how much of a linguist he is, it is a certainty that he would be able to make himself understood by all the commissioners, and it would not require any polysyllabic talk either.

WATER FAMINE.

The necessity for economy in the use of city water is apparent. The warning of the mayor should be sufficient and it should be the aim of all citizens to cooperate in conserving the supply on hand. While rains have been frequent this season they have not lasted any length of time, and, although growing crops have had sufficient moisture for their prosperity, the ground itself has not been thoroughly water soaked for two years. One of the best evidences of the amount of water in the ground is the tile drains and farmers report very generally that these drains have been dry for a long time.

The demand for water in Jacksonville has increased remarkably with the last few years. It has only been a decade since the practice prevailed of equipping all newly built houses with modern improvements. Gas or electricity and water conveniences are now a part of every dwelling house, even of moderate proportions, and the consumption of water has increased at a corresponding ratio.

The city has taken steps none too soon to secure water from an inexhaustible source like the Illinois river, and when the project, now so well under way, is an accomplished fact the periodical warning of this character will be a thing of the past. So mote it be.

THE DAYS OF GRAFT.

Dr. Shepardson, of Chicago university, seems to find great satisfaction in the announcement that "graft existed in the good old days." There is little cause for complacency in comparing the present with the past, unless the present is an improvement over the past. Graft has existed in some form or other since the first page of history was penned. The destruction of the Spanish Armada was due not so much to the superior fighting qualities of the English sailors as it was to the rotten food stored on board the ships, months before the ships weighed anchor, through the connivance of government contractors. The fleet had not been out two days before dysentery was epidemic from putrid water that had been stored in casks for the same length of time. The "job" was well done. England reaped a glorious victory and many a Spanish don lined his pockets with gold at the sacrifice of his countrymen, all due to the same practice we denominate graft.

If we have not improved over the past it is cause for concern, not complacency. The facts of the case are we have improved over the past and especially in the United States have the American people risen to the occasion and our mad course on the road that was leading to commercialism of the rankest kind has been checked. There has been a right-about-face order and the intelligent citizen, taxpayer and voter has renewed his interest in public and private affairs and has demanded that the public official, whether he sits in the United States senate or serves in the humblest municipal capacity, shall be square in his dealings with the people and shall administer his office according to the will of the majority and with a view to the public good. Such a statement is justified under the awakening that has taken place in Oregon, in Wisconsin, in Missouri, in Pennsylvania, in New York and in countless municipalities where public interest has been found to be subordinated to private gain.

We are glad to agree with Dr. Shepardson in his statement that "we have a sure future," but we can find little cause for congratulation when "we are no worse than we used to be." There is little use in trying to take the glamor off of our early history by citing instances of corruption and bribery among our revolutionary patriots and then drawing the comparison between men in high places then and now. Human nature has ever been the same, but with the complexity of our cosmopolitan population the opportunities for corruption and "graft" have increased tenfold, with the opportunity of detection decreasing in a corresponding ratio. It is too much to expect the total eradication of the graft evil in either public or private affairs in this or any other country. The public, however, should be slow to tolerate any practice that tends in this direction. Both private and public interests should have the safeguards of legal restriction thrown around them as much as is possible, consistent with sane legislation and commercial adaptibility.

Miss Dora Lee, of Kansas City, is a guest of Miss May Brown.

T. J. Holt, of Hardin avenue, who underwent an operation at Our Savior's hospital several weeks ago, is improving as well as could be expected.

Dinner will be served to day at Christian church.

Something About Salt.

Salt, which is an article in daily use in the humblest homes, has a number of interesting facts concerning it.

Salt is used all over the world much in the same way as water, animals and human beings alike craving for it. In some parts of Africa children will eat it in preference to sugar, and on the Gold Coast a handful of salt will purchase two slaves.

The Germans call salt "the gift of God" and used to believe that prayers were better answered when offered near salt. In the east salt is considered sacred. All oaths taken over it are inviolable, and when an Arab offers salt to a guest he guarantees his safety.

The Romans believed that if the salt put on a sacrifice fell off it presaged disaster; hence the origin of the "bad luck" attendant on salt spilling.

Don'ts For Boys and Girls.

Don't write on soiled or torn sheets of paper.

Don't write letters with a lead pencil. It is very bad form—not to say an unpardonable breach of correct letter writing.

Don't seal a letter of introduction. The person to whom it is given is supposed to inform himself of its contents.

Don't write carelessly. Spell correctly and be painstaking about your punctuation and the language in which you express your thoughts.

Don't send a letter bearing blots or scratches. Make a new copy if necessary.

A Queer Indian Bird.

There is in the London zoo a bird called the silver eared mesia. He is a handsome rainbow hued little fellow from the Himalayas, not much larger than a sparrow. This bird is fed on wood ants, and in order that the insects may not sting his throat when he swallows them he squeezes them in his beak and deliberately turns his tail around and rubs on it the poisonous fluid the ants exude. His tail feathers are stained through constant repetition of this process.

THE DAILY JOURNAL 10c A WEEK.

To Mix Mustard.

One tablespoonful of dry mustard, five tablespoonfuls of scorched flour, one tablespoonful of sweet oil, mixed with vinegar enough to make a paste. White wine vinegar is best.

Inflamed Eyes.

A solution consisting of ten grains of pure borax and two ounces of camphor water is usually efficient for inflamed eyes. It may be used as a wash several times a day.

Elderberry Wine.

When fully grown and black pick from the stem, add a very little water and scald until the skins soften. The juice can then be easily pressed out. To one quart of juice add three quarts of water and four pounds of sugar. Put in a jug and keep filled. Have some left to fill up as it ferments. As soon as clear cork tightly and keep in a cool place. If the juice is squeezed with a press lay a cloth in and put berries in the cloth. In one year's time it will be in fine condition.

Overboiled Potatoes.

If you happen to forget your potatoes and let them boil too much drain off all the water possible. Then put them over the fire, still in the saucepan, and stir with a wooden spoon till the water has evaporated and they are dry and floury. See there are no lumps left. Add pepper, salt, a piece of butter and a little milk. Mix thoroughly and serve as mashed potatoes.

Froggy and the Cloud.

A brisk little froggy one day
Went forth in the weeds for a play.
A rain cloud o'erhead
Thundered loudly
And said,
"I'm going to pour rain right away."

A very nice toadstool grew nigh.
To its shelter the froggy did hie.
"You see, I'm a fellen
With a new Umbrellen,
So I don't mind your rain. Let'er fly!"

The Dwarf Tree.

Two travelers are said to have seen on the mountains near Cape Horn a tree which was only one or two inches high, yet had branches spreading out four or five feet along the ground.

OBITUARY.

Addie Lena Pyatt, daughter of Mrs. Josephine Pyatt and the late Oliver J. Pyatt, was born Nov. 27, 1872, in Canton, Mo. She lived there until 1884, when she removed to this city with her parents, and except for several years spent in Pekin, where her father held a government position, she lived the remainder of her life here. She was educated in the public schools and the regular course was supplemented by a course in the Business college. Always frail and delicate, she ever exhibited a peculiarly bright and loving disposition and leaves many friends.

Miss Pyatt united with the Christian church under the pastorate of Rev. A. N. Gilbert, and to the last maintained her interest and love for the church. She went south for her health in January, but failed to improve, and returned to this city, entering into rest early in the morning of Aug. 9th.

The funeral will be held at the Christian church this afternoon at 4 o'clock, in charge of Rev. Guy B. Williamson, and interment will be in Jacksonville cemetery.

BACK FROM TRIP THROUGH WEST

Mr. Ensley Moore Tells of Experiences of Pleasure Party Who Left Here in July—Visited Portland Exposition.

Wednesday afternoon Ensley Moore returned from Portland, Ore., where he went to attend the national conference of charities and corrections. The conference was well attended by easterners, and Mr. Moore was on the program to open the discussion in one of the section meetings. He was also continued on the committee upon which he has served for the past three years.

Mr. Moore, accompanied by his wife and daughter, Miss Clara C. Moore, left here July 3, with the party organized by Dr. A. L. Adams, consisting of twenty-five friends or acquaintances, mostly from this city. They went via special car from here to St. Paul and thence over the Canadian Pacific to Vancouver, B. C. In referring to this route Mr. Moore says that if all the letters in a printer's case were adjectives they could all be employed in describing the beauty, the wildness, the grandeur and the length of the great tour from the Mississippi to the western ocean at our northwest boundary. At Vancouver the party took a boat to Victoria, B. C., and to Seattle, Wash. From there each one went their several ways. But together they had crossed the plains of North Dakota and of Assinniboia, they had seen Calgara and Medicine Hat where the cold comes from, they had climbed the Canadian Rockies and stayed over night at glorious Banff, they had run down from the glaciers and through the Selkirks, along Frasers river, "done" Vancouver and Victoria by street cars and carriage, and the last wonderful story of the party was a matchless sunset on Puget sound, seen from the decks of the beautiful steamer "Princess Victoria." At Portland Mr. Moore met C. W. Pallett and family and Mrs. Harry Baumer; at Vancouver Ben Kirby was on hand, and at Caldwell, Idaho, John C. Rice and wife hospitally entertained the party, as did Pres. Boone, of the college of Idaho. At Lewistone, Idaho, the Moores visited with Charles D. Babb and wife at the hospitable home of James E. Babb of Illinois college '82, one of the ablest and most prominent lawyers of Idaho. At Spokane, Wash., Miss Nellie Arken and Miss Moore visited at Mr. Clarence Dawson's. Enroute home the party visited Salt Lake and Boise City and Denver, at which latter place Mr. George W. Baily was seen. Mr. A. C. DeMary, late of Boise, has gone with a party building an irrigating canal near Minidoka, and is also homesteading a claim in that vicinity. Mr. DeMary has made a good name for himself at Boise and wisely is providing for his wife and son in the manner indicated above.

As the party came through Nebraska they were impressed by the magnificent development of the "great American desert" as shown in the abounding crops of that state.

LUTHER-WALTHER CIRCLE.

The members of the Luther-Walther circle of the Salem Lutheran church gave a very enjoyable social on the church lawn Wednesday evening. The grounds were brilliantly illuminated with electric lights, while numerous Japanese lanterns added a touch of color to the scene. The tables were decorated with numerous bouquets, and about the fence was a band of red, white and blue bunting.

Ice cream and cake and lemonade were served by an efficient corps of waiters and during the evening music was furnished by Clarence Heath, Walter Schildman and Elmer Barter. The patronage was good.

The committee in charge was composed of Misses Laura Brune and Pauline Toussaint; Messrs. Louis Hoffman and Louis Horrer, while others freely lent their aid.

A HUGE PILE OF SAWDUST.

At Cheboygan, Mich., is the largest sawdust pile in the world, and strangers often walk out to gaze with astonishement at its proportions. It is a veritable hill, 1,080 feet long, 875 feet wide, 3,625 feet in circumference, ranges from 20 to 50 feet in height and covers 12 acres of ground. It is the accumulation of one lumber company since 1877. Early in its history the company tried to burn the pile, but the outside only would burn, the flames refusing to penetrate the closely packed interior. Since then chemical uses have risen for sawdust, and the huge pile increases year by year, pending conversion into charcoal, ethyl, alcohol or oxalic acid. Digging into its interior one finds the sawdust as bright as the day it was placed there.

Murderous Skyscrapers.

"Will it be murder?" said the millionaire minister.

"It will kill four men," the contractor replied.

"Then I won't build this twenty story skyscraper," the minister said resolutely. "I'll buy real estate."

The contractor, a singularly unselfish man, nodded in approbation.

"Statistics prove," he declared, "that in the construction of every ten story building one man is killed, every fifteen story building kills three men and every twenty story building kills four men.

"Nearly all these men are killed in the same way—they fall."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

A New Form of Meat.

Experiments by American ranchmen have produced a new form of meat. It is called hybrid buffalo, and it is described as a cross between bison and beef, with the best qualities of each intensified. The crowned heads of Europe are said to have taken to it enthusiastically, but as it has to be reared and fed as wild cattle there is said to be great difficulty in conveying it to market. Hybrid buffalo improves with age, that which has been kept a month or two being far more palatable than the finest beef.

Fruit Trees on Highways.

One of the ways for beautifying the country in the grand duchy of Baden without any ultimate expense to the taxpayer is the planting of fruit trees along the government highways. These are cherry, apple, pear and in some places walnut trees. The trees are planted thirty-two feet apart along each side of the road, and when the fruit is ready for market it is sold at public auction on the trees, the purchaser being obliged to harvest it at his own expense.

A "John" Administration.

Governor Hoch is giving Kansas a "John" administration. That is the first name of the bank commissioner, live stock commissioner, state accountant, state grain inspector, secretary of the board of control, regent of the agricultural college, state agent at Washington, member of the Hutchinson reformatory board, one member of the grain commission, assistant state grain inspector, state architect and the governor's private secretary.

The High Collar.

We have a strong impression that the average height of the masculine neck is greater now than it used to be. Has the long neck produced the high collar, or has the neck adapted itself to the new environment of the high collar? If we are to believe Dr. F. B. Brubaker of St. Louis the high collar may be a source of unpleasant symptoms from pressure on the pneumogastric nerve.—British Medical Journal.

Vanilla Culture.

It is estimated that a five acre vanilla plantation in Mexico will yield sufficient income to render its owner independent for life. Vanilla cultivation is said to be especially adapted to women or persons who cannot endure exposure or hardships. It requires, however, personal and constant attention, and the vines must not be subjected to the rough treatment of hired help.

A Motor Street Cleaner.

London will soon put on its streets a motor street cleaning machine that will do the work of 500 men. It operates rakes for caked mud, "squeegees" for wet weather, a revolving brush and a set of overlapping scrapers to complete the cleaning operation. All the refuse goes into a box. It works at the rate of eight miles an hour.

The Lacemakers.

Belgium, in addition to its specialty, Brussels lace, manufactures laces for the world at large to suit the world's demands. The well known Valenciennes lace, which is sold in France, is in great part manufactured in eastern Flanders. The Lille lace, the Parisian lace (point de Paris), is nearly all made by Belgian fingers.

PREFER SEPARATE STATE.

Indians Want Their Territory Admitted Independent of Oklahoma.

Advocates of separate statehood or the admission of Oklahoma and Indian territories into the Union as separate political divisions apparently have concentrated their efforts upon making a success of the constitutional convention to be called in Muskogee Aug. 21, says the Chicago Chronicle.

Separate statehood has lost the majority of its adherents since the unanimous action of the Oklahoma City convention and the aim of those who formerly favored it now seems to be to frame a constitution for Indian Territory and "let Oklahoma come in under it if she wants to."

Chief Porter of the Creeks, in speaking of the position of the Indians in statehood matters, said:

"We prefer a separate state from Oklahoma. I am satisfied that 90 per cent of the people of Indian Territory feel the same way. Whether we get separate statehood or not, this constitution will be a good thing. If we are forced to joint statehood with Oklahoma we will form a constitution and let Oklahoma come in under it."

Indian pride and a desire among the prominent members of the five civilized tribes to refute the belief that the Indians are in reality opposed to any sort of statehood are believed to be responsible for the great interest displayed in the coming constitutional convention.

The framing of a comprehensive constitution for presentation to congress by a gathering in which the Indians will take part, it is believed, will tend to change the opinion at Washington that the Indians are not yet ready for statehood and are not in a sufficiently civilized condition to be sent into the world without the shelter of the government wing. Chief Porter has voiced this sentiment, as have all the other chiefs of the Indian tribes.

BUMPS TO CHECK AUTOS.

Chicago Suburb's Novel Scheme to Make Chauffeurs Obey the Law.

The problem of regulating the speed of automobiles has been solved by Glencoe, a suburb of Chicago. It is simple. Just make the fast going machines "bump the bumps," and there you are, says a Chicago dispatch.

Glencoe does not put it in any such crude way. It is simply going to "improve" Sheridan road, but this "improvement" is to consist of a six inch bump at every crossing, and the motorist who attempts to "take the jumps" at high speed will be punished, the Glencoe village board believes, more than by any fine which could be imposed.

Work on the bumps was begun a few days ago. They will be made of brick and will be six inches high at the highest point. On each side will be a sharp slope that will make it easy for the cars to get over, provided they are running at a moderate speed, but which will have a tendency to shoot the occupants some feet into the air if taken at high speed.

FUND TO FEED TRAMPS.

Square Meal and a Hot Bath Free In Kalamazoo, Mich.

The will of Mrs. Almira Kramer of Kalamazoo, Mich., was read recently in the presence of the heirs, who were astonished by a trust fund of $10,000 to be used to feed tramps, says a Kalamazoo dispatch.

Senator Burrows, who is named as trustee, will have direct charge of the money. All applications must be made by tramps at the police department, where each tramp will be presented with a ticket entitling him to a square meal at a restaurant. If the tramp wishes he may have a hot bath.

Senator Burrows drew up the will for the woman, who was eighty-nine years of age when she died. The heirs will not contest, as the residue of the property amounts to $105,000.

The Growth of English.

The English language is growing. The Egypt correspondent of the Osage (Mo.) News writes: "Jeff Smith isn't exactly on the sick list, but he's punying some."

The Kaiser and the Czar.

What matters it all Russia's ships repose
beneath the sea,
Or if her army flees before the jovial Japanee?
The double headed eagle soon will chortle
"Victory!"
For the czar is getting pointers from the kaiser.

What though the revolutionists most foully
revolute
And clamor round the palace doors for more grand dukes to shoot?
They soon will be quite pacified and clapped in jail to boot,
For the czar is getting lessons from the kaiser.

Her seamen may rise up and shoot their officers and skip
Across the rocking ocean with a beetling battleship,
But they will all throw up their hands
and not so much as yip
When the czar imbibes the methods of the kaiser.

Although the throne is balanced on a very slender thread
And threatens to tip off the czar and land
him on his head,
He'll keep his seat if he digests the wisdom he is fed
From the large and lasting larder of the kaiser.

He'll be advised to keep right on and fight the Japanee
And build more ships in place of those that sank beneath the sea
And rule his restless subjects with a hard severity,
Which but follows the example of the kaiser.

And when he's taken this advice and by his wise commands
Upon a hard and barren rock his much loved country lands,
He'll find a friend in readiness to take it
off his hands,
A well disposed, unselfish friend—the kaiser.

James Montague in New York Journal.

A RIDICULOUS FIGURE.

Max Beerbohm, the English actor, thinks it is time to do away with the "ridiculous stock figure that has for many years done duty on the English stage for American men—always blatant, always cool, always resourceful, always ready with dreadful funniments in the manner of Max Adeler. Thirty years ago, before the development of steamship navigation, it was natural enough that the English playwrights should be content with this figure. But nowadays, when London throughout every summer is overflowing with real Americans, it certainly does seem strange that our playwrights can give us nothing better than this one old battered simulacrum."

John Jacob Astor and the Farmer.

John Jacob Astor thus forecasts in Collier's Weekly the homely service of the automobile: "The farmer whose horses have plowed all day and who, with his family, naturally needs recreation when the work is done will invoke his automobile that as a stationary engine may have been cutting feed, sawing wood or what not, switch the motive power to the driving wheels and with a joyful 'All aboard!' be off to the nearest town, though it may be miles away." Evidently what John Jacob doesn't know about farming isn't worth telling.—Boston Transcript.

Ancient Civilization.

Lecturing on "Canaan One Hundred Years Before the Exodus," Dr. Sayce said recently that the civilized oriental world of the Mosaic age was as highly civilized as that of the present day. Correspondence from the Egyptian foreign office of 1400 B. C. was contained in the cuneiform tablets discovered at Tel-el-Armana nearly twenty years ago. Well organized postal services, high roads, colleges and libraries existed, and there was "ample evidence that monarchs were anxious to protect the trade of the country."

An Ungallant Lawyer.

An English barrister named Gill in his speech in a recent breach of promise case made some epigrammatic remarks about women which will not make him popular with the sex. However, he was counsel for the man in the case. He said: "All women have a capacity for describing themselves as martyrs. They regard any other woman that a man knows as a 'creature.' The first thing a woman did when she was engaged was to take the man around in triumph and show him to her friends."

A Victorious Woodpecker.

A woodpecker caused a heap of disturbance at the John Tantlinger home in the western part of town the other day. He got down in the galvanized iron smokestack in the early morning and, being unable to fly out, pecked a hole in the heavy metal large enough to get out, but he woke up the residents in that part of the town while he had his bill in action, as the noise resembled that of a tinner putting a bottom on an old wash boiler.—Iowa City Republican.

Free Talk.

One of the most strange as well as the most recent of scientific ideas is that trees talk to one another in a language that can be reduced to paper and translated. It is proved that they vibrate in a manner not due to the air or external pressure. Such vibrations can be photographed and thrown on a screen, and by a study of these movements it is hoped that the language of trees will be understood.

An Automobile Trap.

A photographic police trap for the apprehension of scorching automobilists has been invented in England. By the pressing of a button a photograph is made of any passing car with the time and date. A pair of these instruments, with synchronized timing arrangements used at each end of a measured piece of ground, would, it is believed, give absolutely accurate data as to the speed of automobiles.

Habits of the Pygmies.

In one of the London amusement houses are a troop of pygmies who have a curious custom of shaving their eyelashes. After making their usual protest against being compelled to bathe in warm water the pygmies, instead of shaving the stubble of beard from their faces as white men do, cut off their eyelashes with the razorlike edges of their tiny arrows.

A Famous Picture.

Vienna is angry because Count Schoenbrun has sold Rembrandt's "Samson and Delilah" to the city of Frankfort. Frankfort paid $82,500 for it. The picture was bought for $30 by one of the count's predecessors, who saw it being used in the market place as the canvas awning for a petty stall holder's wares.

Ryan of the Equitable.

Thomas F. Ryan, who secured control of the Equitable Life Assurance society by purchasing the Hyde interests, recently added a new phase to the affair by approving a plan which if carried out will enable the society to acquire the stock at the price he paid for it. Mr. Ryan has also expressed himself as heartily in accord with the action of the New York legislature in ordering an investigation of all life insurance companies in the state. "A thorough investigation will be a good thing for the policy holders," said Mr. Ryan, "and that is the great question involved."

Mr. Ryan is a man of great wealth and is recognized as one of the foremost financiers in this country. He was born on a farm in Virginia fifty-four years ago and is of Scotch ancestry. His family having been impoverished by the civil war, young Ryan started out at the age of fifteen to make his fortune. He began as a dry goods clerk in Baltimore, but in a couple of years was given a position in a New York bank. Here he improved his opportunities and was soon on the road to fortune. "Fortune," by the way, is Mr. Ryan's middle name. His first big business venture was the formation of his Richmond Terminal company, by which the southern railroad lines were brought in close working arrangements.

His genius for organization attracted the attention of the late William C. Whitney, and together they brought about the consolidation of the many small traction lines of New York city into one system, known as the Metropolitan Railway company. Later he secured control of the gas and electric companies in New York. Since then he has extended his operations to other cities, always with notable success.

MATHENY & LLOYD.

(By Associated Press.)
Chicago, Aug. 9.—Wheat—The volume of trade was very moderate and the market at no time particularly active. Sentiment was inclined to bullishness. The main feature was comparatively strong English cables and adverse Russian advices. In addition there were some reports from North Dakota of damage by rain and hail. Shorts and commission houses were principal buyers. The market closed firm, September up ⅜@½c.

Corn—Only moderately active, but tone prevalent was firm. Commission houses and receiving interests were among principal buyers, while selling was scattered. Reports from central Illinois of damage by dry, hot weather tended to create bullish sentiment. The market closed steady with September up a shade.

Oats—Trading fair, largely of local character. Cash and commission houses were fair buyers. Selling was scattered. Strength of other grain had a supporting influence. The close was firm, September up ⅛c.

FINANCIAL MARKET.
New York, Aug. 9.—Opening prices on the stock exchange to-day showed mixed gains and losses and prices moved in contrary directions in different parts of the list throughout the day. There was scarcely a time when consistent tone was perceptible, so irregular and mixed was the movement. Here and there in the list new high records were made and active demand for one or two standard market leaders relieved trading from its appearance of being given over entirely to less prominent specialties. Strength of these influential stocks was obviously taken advantage of to effect sales of realizing profits at different points. The volume of dealings shrunk to some extent and there were periods when dullness was more intense than for a long time. Closing quotations

Money on call steady; highest and ruling rate, 2 per cent; lowest, last loan, closing bid and offered at 1¾. Time loans steady and dull; sixty days at 2¾@3; ninety days at 3@3¼; six months at 3¾@4. The Bunkoing of Professor Schenker

[Original.]

Professor Schenker occupied the chair of entomology. He had come to America from a German university with a great reputation in his profession. Nevertheless his pupils, who all loved him, declared that all the professor knew was about bugs. He was as simple as a child. When he went out after insects, which was often, his wife was in dread lest he fall into a well or get caught by the seat of his trousers in crossing a fence and perish before being found.

One day the professor, after many admonitions from Mrs. Professor, went to the city to meet a man with whom he had an engagement. The man was apparently a farmer and carried a carpetbag of the rag variety, which he exchanged with the professor for some crisp notes. They were both Germans, and both might have been taken for farmers. Indeed, after the trade, on visiting a beer saloon to refresh themselves every one there spotted them for a couple of "hayseeds." As they were about to leave, a man stepped up to the professor and, seizing his hand, said:

"My dear old friend, how do you do?"

The professor did not remember him, but the man had no difficulty in convincing the professor just where they had met, and the three went back for more beer. Then the newly found friend introduced a friend, and there was a fine party.

"What y' got in your grip, ole man?" asked the man who had introduced himself. "Y' seem to feel afraid of losing it."

"I got a dreasure in dat bag," replied Schenker.

By this time they had drunk a good deal of beer, and the newly found friends proposed to show the strangers the city in a hack.

"Y' don't want to take that bag along. It wouldn't be safe. I'll leave it for y' with the proprietor of this saloon."

Through several mugs of beer the professor saw his treasure carried away without the power to protest. Then he was hurried into the hack with the man with whom he had made the trade, and the driver was told to show them the city. Had they imbibed less beer they might have thought it strange that neither of their entertainers accompanied them.

In a short time the professor, not having continued his potations, began to be fearful for the safety of his treasure and ordered the hackman to drive back to the saloon.

When the two men drove up to the door, seeing a crowd about it, with several policemen struggling to break through and go inside, the professor wrung his hands and moaned:

"Mein dreasure! Mein dreasure! Dere haf been a fire, and all is burned up!"

Leaping from the hack, he elbowed his way into the saloon. All was commotion. From a private room came howls, and from the crowd, some of whom were standing on the tables, came cries of "Murder!" and "Police!" Suddenly the door of the private room opened, and the two men who had interested themselves in the professor's carpetsack rushed wildly out, swinging their arms in a vain attempt to fight off a swarm of bees that clustered about their heads. Their panic was communicated to the others, and there was a mad rush for the door.

When the saloon was cleared, there remained the proprietor, the two bee stung men, the professor and a policeman. The farmer who had sold the bees came in and, taking in the situation, hived them. Then came the explanation. It did not require many questions to convince the policeman that it was a confidence game, in which the misplaced confidence was with the swindlers. He marched them off to the station, taking the professor along for his testimony, a crowd of gamins following, shouting and jeering the prisoners at the condition of their swollen heads.

When Professor Schenker returned home that evening he was met by his wife, who had seriously considered sending out a "lost child" alarm. Throwing up her hands, she exclaimed, "My dear, where have you been?"

Then the professor told how he had heard of a rare variety of bees, how he had bargained for them by correspondence and taken them from their owner to bring home, rounding out the story with an account of the attempted capture of money and the reaping of a harvest of hornets.

The story was published in an evening paper and was soon in possession of the college. The same evening a crowd of students came to the professor's house, called him out, and one of their number addressed him:

"We tender you and the land of your adoption congratulations on the noble manner in which you have steered bunko steerers into the open arms of the law, where they will receive their deserts and be a warning to the rest of their craft that if they try to bunko any one connected with our college they will find Jordan a hard road to travel."

The professor blushed and tried to stammer a reply, but when it was apparent that he was about to break down in his attempt, the students covered his retreat with the college yell and four of them, taking him on their shoulders, carried him around the campus.

At the trial of the two swindlers Professor Schenker made a pathetic appeal for them, but it had no effect whatever on the heart of the obdurate judge, who sent them to state's prison for two years each.

To Keep Butter Firm.
To keep butter fill a bowl with cold water. Put the butter on a plate and put on top of the bowl. Then take a piece of butter muslin and put over the butter, and let both ends drop into the water. You can easily get the butter for use, and you will find it quite solid and cool.

To Remove Red Ink Stain.
Wet the article to be cleaned with lemon juice. Rub as much salt into the spots as the lemon juice will hold. Lay in the hot sun for a day, wetting hourly with lemon juice. At night lay in soft, clean water and soak until morning, when wash in the usual way.

MALARIA
UNDERMINES THE HEALTH

When the germs of malaria enter the blood the entire health is affected, and if the blood is not purified of these germs and microbes, Chronic Sores and Ulcers, Liver Splotches, Chills and Fever, Boils, Aches and Pains, and a great variety of troubles manifest themselves, and soon the entire system is undermined, leaving the sufferer a prey to a most miserable, weak and nervous condition.

913 W. Market St., Louisville, Ky.
For several years I suffered with Chills and Fever, caused by Malaria in my system, and each summer for several years I would have a relapse. Finally my physician prescribed S. S. S. I took a few bottles; this was about six years ago. It entirely cured me, and I have never been troubled since. I am sure no other medicine could have given me so complete and immediate relief, and I cannot speak too highly of S. S. S. My partner in business is now taking S. S. S. for an eruption of the skin, and a general run-down condition of the system, and although he has taken but one bottle, already commences to feel better.
I. SHAPOFF.

S. S. S. counteracts and drives all the poison from the blood and builds up the system by its fine purifying qualities and tonic effects. It strengthens every part, increases the appetite, helps the stomach and digestion, and by supplying the body with rich, pure blood, cures Malaria and all its disagreeable ailments. Unlike most blood medicines S. S. S. is purely vegetable. It does not contain a particle of mineral of any kind to disagreeably affect the stomach, digestion and bowels, but by cleansing and strengthening the blood, puts every part of the body in healthy condition. Book on the blood and any medical advice desired without charge.

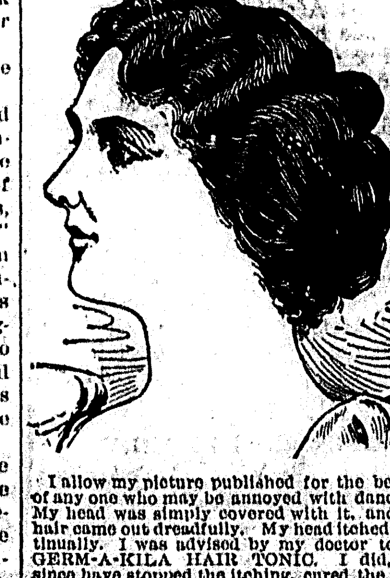
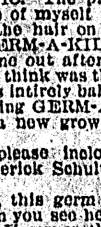
HAIR!



I allow my picture published for the benefit of any one who may be annoyed with dandruff. My head was simply covered with it, and my hair came out dreadfully. My head itched continually. I was advised by my doctor to try GERM-A-KILA HAIR TONIC. I did, and since have stopped the itching, cured the dandruff, and as to my hair, it shows for itself. I shall never be without a bottle of GERMA-A-KILA HAIR TONIC.—Mrs. N. Allen, 1425 West Ohio Street, Chicago.

I make this sworn statement for the benefit of other people who are bald or getting that way. I have been bald for 14 years and on the 14th of July one year ago I commenced the use of GERM-A-KILA HAIR TONIC. The picture without hair is a correct one of myself as I have been, and the one with the hair on it as I am now since I used GERM-A-KILA HAIR TONIC. My hair first came out after I had worn a sealskin cap, which I think was the cause. In three years after I was intirely bald. I may say in ninety days after using GERM-A-KILA HAIR TONIC I noticed a new growth of hair.

People addressing me will please inclose stamp for answer. August Frederick Schultz, 486 Cass Street, Milwaukee, Wis.



Does your head itch? If so, this germ is lurking in your scalp. This germ you see here is 28,000 times its natural size. However, this is just as it looks under a powerful microscope. It can be found on any scalp that has dandruff. Some people have as many as two or three thousand. GERM-A-KILA HAIR TONIC destroys this germ and causes the hair to grow; besides cures any case of dandruff, stops the hair falling out in a very short time. Put up in 50c bottles only. This bottle is as large as most dollar bottles. We give no free samples. One 50-cent bottle will show for itself. Address all mail orders to the GERM-A-KILA MEDICINE CO., Milwaukee, Wis. ANY DRUGGIST CAN ORDER IT FOR YOU IF HE HAS NOT GOT IT.

GERMANY'S TROUBLES IN AFRICA.

Germany's African colonies are making the white man's burden heavy. The German campaign in southwest Africa has already cost $65,500,000 in money and the lives of about 1,100 Germans, exclusive of women and children, who have been killed in the various raids of the natives. Many German soldiers, too, have been invalided home, and over 77 per cent of those, on examination, are shown to be permanently disabled.

Just about the time that these figures of the disaster in Germany's southwest African colonies were being made public the news comes of a rising of the natives in German east Africa, a region which had been quiet heretofore. Nobody need be surprised, therefore, that there are loud protests in Germany against further expenditure of money or life in the colonial adventure.

MAY BE WATER FAMINE

Lake Has Gone Down Six Feet Recently—Mayor Davis Urges Water Economy.

The fact that comparatively little rain has fallen in this vicinity for a number of months is made very apparent by a visit to the lake at Nichols park. Mayor Davis said last night that the water at the lake has gone down six feet within the last three weeks, and he says unless there are heavy rains, and that right speedily, the question of water supply will be a serious one. For that reason, Mayor Davis urges upon every citizen the necessity of economy in the use of city water. Unless the supply is increased very soon it will be necessary for the protection of the city to shut off the sprinkling wagons and ice plants and to give positive orders that citizens use no water for lawn purposes. Mayor Davis does not wish to cause any unnecessary alarm, but the question is an imperative one and citizens owe it to themselves and the city at large to save every possible gallon of water.

TO IMPROVE CHURCH

New Altar and Pulpit for Salem Lutheran Congregation—Gift of Women of Church—Other Changes.

Substantial improvements in their church property are being made and are under consideration by the Salem Evangelical Lutheran congregation, which is a good indication of the success with which the work of the gospel is being carried on by the pastor, Rev. H. Hallerberg, and the healthful condition of the church body as a whole. Much of a substantial nature has already been accomplished and larger things are being planned for the future.

Among the things that have been done may be mentioned the fencing of the church property. A new fence of neat design has been erected, which adds wonderfully to the attractiveness of the premises, and in fact, of the whole neighborhood. Other parts of the grounds have also been given attention, the results of which are very marked.

The greatest improvement for the near future is a new altar and pulpit, to be presented to the congregation by the married ladies of the church. The contract for this improvement has been made with a Milwaukee firm, and will include an entirely new altar, with a statue of Christ and a new pulpit. The altar will be of butternut wood in natural finish, with gold trimmings, and will measure 12 feet high by 5½ feet. The statue will be 4 feet 2 inches high. It is expected that these new pieces will be in place within four or five weeks, when a more complete description can be given.

The young people of the church are not to be outdone in the matter of improvement, and are planning to present the church with a new carpet, coincident with the putting in of the new altar and pulpit. Work toward this end has already begun. Such work is very gratifying to any pastor and should be especially so to Rev. H. Hallerberg, who has comparatively recently taken charge of the work.

CARITAS REBEKAH LODGE.

Caritas Rebekah lodge No. 625 was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Heaton and Mr. and Mrs. William Harney Wednesday evening at the Heaton residence on East North street. The evening was pleasantly spent in playing progressive euchre. The first prize for ladies was awarded to Mrs. Louis Piepenbring, the first gentlemen's prize to J. J. Reeve and Mrs. VanHouten won the consolation prize. Delicious refreshments were served which added much to the pleasure of the occasion.

BURGOO AND PICNIC.

The annual burgoo and picnic given by the Sunday school of the Lynnville Christian church at Richardson's grove, southwest of the city, Wednesday was a grand success. A large number were present and were well pleased with the excellent program which was given. In the morning, Earl Gordon and Mr. Gibbs made addresses, and a cantata entitled "Uncle Jonathan's Tea Party" was given under the direction of Mrs. Samuel Heaton. In the afternoon a drill was given by the boys and girls of the Sunday school under the supervision of the pastor. The soup was excellent and sold well.
